Rental exhibits are on an unprecedented upward trend. In fact, at most major shows in North America, 15-20% of the displays are rentals. That wasn't true just six years ago.

Exhibitors, despite having more design options than ever before, are increasingly asked to do more with less, sometimes considerably less. Rental displays are ideal since they require a smaller upfront investment and offer greater design flexibility.

Done well, a rental exhibit should be indistinguishable from any other display. However, not all rental suppliers have the discipline, depth, and history to deliver a quality rental every time. With over 200 professional distributors, Classic Rental Solutions has not only a massive inventory, but also the experience to fulfill almost any customer request - from 20 monitor stands to a 40 x 60 island with a double-deck structure. All with detailed setup instructions, protective packaging, and pre-fitted graphics.
